To: Affidavit 2006 Program Customers
Week of August 28, 2006

We have identified a serious math error in the new Financial Affidavit program. In addition, when printing, some users have experienced program crashes in some unusual situations.

If you have experienced the math error it will probably be obvious to you. Voluntary payroll deductions for (1) "Life and Disability Insurance," (2) "Life Insurance" and (3) "Disability Insurance" are not being included in the grand total of payroll deductions. These amounts are being included in the sub-total for Voluntary deductions, but are not being carried forward to be included in the grand total of all Mandatory and Voluntary payroll deductions.

The printing crash is more difficult to diagnose, but we think we have it resolved.

The file now available on this web site contains a revised program which is intended to resolve these issues. (We are in the process of mailing a replacement CD to everyone who has purchased the program prior to August 28, 2006. You can wait for the CD to arrive — or download the file from this web site. The CD will be sent, whether or not you download the file. Getting CDs made and mailed will take several days, and is not expected to be completed until Friday, September 1, 2006)

The file available here is a complete program. It can be used to install an initial occurrence of the program or to update/repair an existing occurrence of the program.

If using the setup file to update/repair, the setup process will look for files on your computer that are older than the files packaged with this setup file -- and then replace just those older files. The only file on your computer that the setup process should find is the file AffWin2006.exe. This is the file that is responsible for the errors. The process of updating will not touch or otherwise have any impact upon your data files.

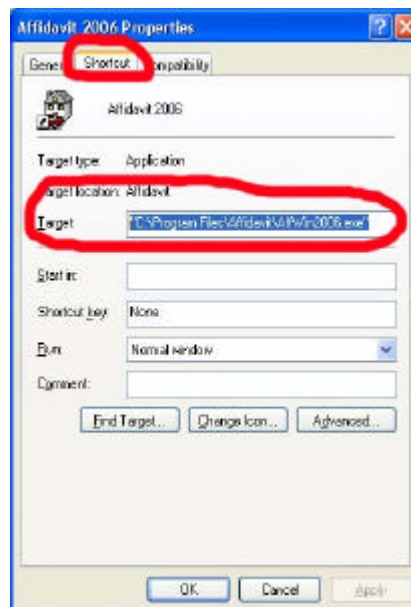

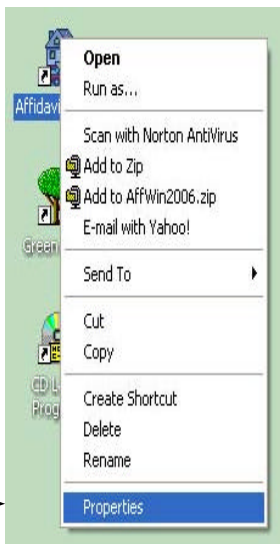

Installation is really pretty easy, and it should not be necessary to hire an "expert" to install this software for you.

See next page for instructions

(Please see www.legalmath.com for any further updates which may become available from time to time.)

If updating, first do this: (The following 8 lines of instructions should take less than 10 seconds of your time)

- Position the mouse over the Affidavit 2006 icon on the desktop.
- Click the right mouse button.
- Then position the mouse over the word "Properties".
- Then click the left mouse button.
- On the "Shortcut" tab you will see a text field labeled "Target"
- The text in this field will tell you the location of your current program.
- If you followed our original setup instructions, this will say:
C:\Program Files\Affidavit\AffWin2006.exe
- If the Target is not "C:\Program Files\Affidavit\AffWin2006.exe", use a pen to write down the actual target location.
- Now click OK or Cancel to close this Properties window

Now that you know the location of the existing occurrence of your Affidavit program:

- Download the setup file to a location where you can find it.
- Double click the setup file to initiate the setup process.
- On the third screen of the setup process, you will be asked where you want to install the program.
- The default location is c:\program files\affidavit
- If your existing program is installed to c:\program files\affidavit, just keep clicking Next until finished.
- If your existing program is installed elsewhere, then you must click Browse and type in the correct matching location. Then just keep clicking Next until finished.

If you have the program in use on more than one computer, you will need to repeat this process on each computer.

You should destroy or delete any prior Financial Affidavit Program CD or setup file.
